State Gops Call Meetings on Separate Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two factions of the Arkansas Republican Party have issued separate calls for a state GOP Executive Committee meeting—on separate days.

State GOP Chairman William Spicer of Fort Smith said Sunday he issued a call for a meeting March 21.

Winthrop Rockefeller's backers on the committee got signatures from 11 of the 21 executive committeemen and called a meeting of the committee for March 7.

Which call would take precedence wasn't known. Henry M. Britt of Hot Springs, the party's lawyer, wouldn't comment on the legality of the Rockefeller backers' call.

The executive committee voted 11 to 10 last Aug. 31 to confine Rockefeller's duties to those of national committeeman—representing the state party on the national level.

Since then Rockefeller has hired four men to organize the state party at the grass roots level.

Spicer said this was one of the things he wanted to talk to the committee about, and one of the reasons he called the meeting.

Rockefeller's backers had sent out a call Feb. 12 for a meeting. But they had only 10 committee member signatures and some Republicans said they must have a majority to call a meeting.

D. Fred Taylor of Osceola was the 11th signer for the petition. He voted with the majority in August to limit Rockefeller's activities.

He wouldn't say Sunday whether he had changed his views. "My only comment is that they are entitled to a legal meeting," Taylor said.

The only thing certain is that the previously called Feb. 22 meeting won't be held.

Spicer said he also wanted to talk to the committee about recommendations to the state Central Committee on filing fees for candidates in this year's elections and about setting a date for a meeting of the state Central Committee.

Meanwhile, Rockefeller's friends continued to boost him for governor. Warren Liebling of Pine Bluff, head of the Draft Rockefeller for Governor Movement, announced Saturday that a survey to determine Rockefeller's popularity as a candidate will be held in Clark County beginning Feb. 20.

He said Clark County was selected because it had a good population cross-section. The survey will be taken by members of Young Republican clubs.

Orie O. Byers Announces for Co. Judge

Judge Orie O. Byers announced today that he would be a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge of Hempstead County. He is a native of this county, and has been serving as County Judge since January 1961.

In making his formal announcement Judge Byers said: "I'm deeply grateful for the splendid support which I received when I was elected County Judge. I have tried to show my appreciation by giving the people of Hempstead County a sound, business-like administration. Although short of funds, the county has graveled some 200 miles of road during my tenure in office, and all departments have been operated within their revenue."

"The county has cooperated with the other agencies involved and has been able to see that surplus commodities were distributed to the needy every month. We have attempted to administer this program in such a way as to care for the needy without any waste of county funds or government commodities."

"The County Judge is the presiding officer of the Juvenile Court. In that capacity, I have endeavored to work with the peace officers, the ministers, and the parents of children who get into trouble and come before the Juvenile Court. This takes time and patience but is well worth the effort if young people can be rehabilitated."

"I believe that the experience that I have had qualifies me to do an even better job in the future. I would like to continue the sound financial program which has been started for the county. I appreciate my friends in this county more than I can say and will continue to show my gratitude by being an honest and hardworking public official. I solicit the continued support and good will of the people of Hempstead County in the coming primary election."

Sincerely,
ORIE O. BYERS

Snowstorm in East Causes Death of 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A sneak Northeast storm whipped by gale force winds deposited up to 18 inches of snow and caused at least 13 deaths in New England Sunday.

Temperatures dropped into the teens over much of the area after the storm passed. Many highways, cleared of all but an inch or two of packed snow, became covered by sheets of ice.

The wind, clocked at 92 miles per hour at Truro on Cape Cod, lashed coastal communities, built up huge drifts and created blizzard-like conditions.

In Maine, four women drowned when their car slid off U.S. 1 and landed upside down in a Passamaquoddy Bay cove at Rebbinston.

At least nine other persons—six in Massachusetts and three in Connecticut—died of heart attacks while shoveling snow or from storm-caused exhaustion.

Eighteen inches of snow fell in the Plymouth, N.H., area. Lebanon, N.H., had 14; Worcester and Bedford, Mass., 12; Brunswick, Maine, 11; Boston, 10; Hartford, Conn., 8 and Montpelier, Vt., 6.

The storm closed airports, all but immobilized highway travel and caused power failures in dozens of communities.

During the full fury of the storm, visibility was almost zero on most highways in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The storm moved out to sea south of Nova Scotia Sunday night.

Fresh snow also covered all of upstate New York, ranging up to 15 inches in the eastern Catskill Mountains. Drifting was reported in some areas, chiefly along Lake Erie.

Generally fair and dry weather prevailed in the major part of the nation. More rain fell along coastal sections of the North Pacific and there was light snow in the northern Rockies and the Dakotas.

Temperatures were near zero in northern lower Michigan and mostly in the teens in sections of the central Rockies, the eastern Great Lakes, the upper Ohio Valley as well as in the snow-covered Northeast.

Readings were in the 20s and 30s in most of the nation, with the 50s in Southern California, the lower Rio Grande Valley and central Florida and in the 60s in extreme southern Florida.

Coast Guard Tells of Sea Collision

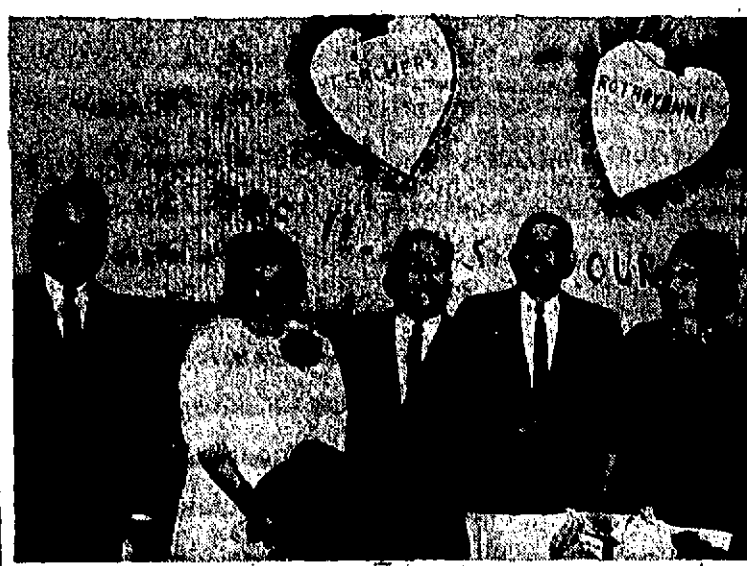

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Coast Guard said a 475-foot Ecuadorian freighter collided with an oil rig about 75 miles southwest of Morgan City early today.

The freighter Ciudad de Guayaquil was not reported in immediate danger, the Coast Guard said, but it was taking on water from damage to the hull.

The Coast Guard said the oil rig was not believed manned when the collision occurred. No reports of injuries were received from the 7,500-ton vessel.

The freighter was bound from Houston, Tex., to New Orleans.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The California Young Republicans say Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater is the man they want for president of the United States.

And attorney John A. Gromala, 34, of Fortuna, is the new president of their 14,000 member group.

They made both choices Sunday. The convention vote for Goldwater was 256 1/2 for, 33 1/2 against.

Ruby Trial Underway at Dallas

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby goes to trial in Dallas today, accused of murder with malice in a strange case overshadowed by the unanswered questions in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The jury candidates—nearly double the normal number—has been called in order to qualify 12 as unprejudiced.

Ruby, 52, a pale, pudgy night club operator, gunned down Lee Harvey Oswald, a self-styled Marxist, two days after the President was killed in Dallas and Oswald was charged with murdering him.

The trial is starting in a courtroom directly across the street from the building where the assassin lurked and then fired at Kennedy.

Defense lawyers indicate that they will try to go into the circumstances of the President's death and the concern of Ruby.

But Henry M. Wade, Dallas County district attorney, says Oswald's guilt or innocence is immaterial in Ruby's trial.

The key phrase in the indictment of Ruby charges he "did then and there with malice aforethought kill Lee Harvey Oswald by shooting him with a gun."

This is equivalent to a charge of murder in the first degree in other states. It carries a maximum penalty of execution in the electric chair. The minimum is two years in prison.

Wade says he will demand the death penalty for Ruby. Out of 25 murder trials, Wade has obtained 24 convictions.

Ruby's trial, it appears now, will develop into a battle of psychiatrists.

His defense will pivot on the plea of temporary insanity, the assertion that he became unhinged with grief by the death of the President.

His chief defense counsel, Melvin Mounon Belli, of San Francisco in an informal talk with reporters Sunday night spoke of "psychomotor epilepsy," "psychic shock" and "trauma."

He pictured Ruby as a victim of psychomotor epilepsy, subject to blackouts, which could be touched off by rage, shock, or a powerful emotion.

He said he did not know whether he would put Ruby on the witness stand, but he said: "If he's on the stand a long time, you'll see a definite disfunction. This guy, if you keep him there, on the stand or in jail much longer, you won't have to take him any place to show he's wacky."

Court Rules Tax Liens Precedence

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court held today that federal tax liens take precedence over material and labor liens and state tax liens in a foreclosure proceeding.

The case arose in Washington County when the First Pyramid Life Insurance Co. foreclosed on Edward Schmidt, doing business as Schmidt's King Chicken.

The trial court ordered Schmidt to pay $40,575 to First Pyramid. This left $9,119 for distribution among other lien holders.

Chancellor Thomas Butt ordered the surplus divided in a manner which would have left $3,620 in federal tax liens unpaid.

The Supreme Court reversed the decision and ordered all the federal tax liens paid first. It said the remaining money should go to satisfy material and labor liens totaling $2,813 held by D&F Sales Co., Houston Floor Service and the Fayetteville Plumbing Co.

After this was paid, only $1,984 was left to satisfy a $3,911 mortgage against the Schmidt property and no money was left to pay an $885 state tax claim.

Leonard F. Levy will remain president of the firm. Dillard is board chairman.

Help Asked to Make Union Load Wheat

By NEIL GILBRIDE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Maritime union officials asked President Johnson today to intervene personally in a labor dispute over the loading of wheat for Russia to avert "an international crisis."

The Maritime trades department of the AFL-CIO also took a sharp verbal slap at Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges for accusing the unions of trying to make U.S. foreign policy by threatening to boycott the wheat shipments.

Earlier, top maritime union officials rejected the personal plea of Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, sent here by the President because of the threatened boycott.

The unanimously adopted resolution by the maritime trades department accused Hodges and the Department of Commerce of becoming "an agent for profit-hungry operators."

The crux of the dispute is the insistence of union officials that at least half the wheat shipped to Russia go in U.S. flag vessels. They said the late President Kennedy had pledged this but that now federal officials were claiming not enough American vessels are available.

Shipping in foreign flag vessels is generally cheaper. The unions' action threatens to bog down on American docks some $75 million worth of grain to be shipped by the Continental Grain Co.

Reynolds is expected to try Continued on Page Three

Goldwater Talks Over Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, back from a week's campaigning in the West and a strategy huddle in Chicago, is optimistic about the progress he is making toward the Republican presidential nomination.

However, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York still thinks Goldwater was "reckless" and "irresponsible" when he advocated sending Marines to turn the water back on at the U.S. naval base in Guantanamo, Cuba.

And Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, describing the kind of candidate who he thought could beat President Johnson next November, didn't seem to have Goldwater in mind.

But Goldwater, fresh from a Chicago strategy session with his top political lieutenants Sunday, said a "great groundswell" of support is building for him.

The Arizona senator said he thinks he has 450 convention votes locked up and another 125 "practically sure." That's only 80 votes short of the number needed to get the nomination.

Goldwater picked up 12 delegates from Oklahoma and four from North Carolina over the weekend. Two other North Carolina delegates selected at GOP conventions did not state a preference for any candidate.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission announced Saturday that Arkansas has received $400,417 for the 1963-64 fiscal year as its share of federal funds derived from excise taxes on the sales of sporting equipment. A spokesman said the amount was $85,000 greater than received in the previous fiscal year.

Flemish Painting Has Been Stolen

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—A sketch by the 17th century Flemish painter Peter Paul Rubens has been stolen from the Brussels Museum of Ancient Art.

Police said the thief entered the museum through the roof and left the same way. He abandoned the frame of the sketch, a Negro's head, on the roof. Museum officials declined to give an estimate of the value of the sketch.

Deportation of Costello Overturned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court overturned today an order for deportation of Frank Costello, 71-year-old New York gambler.

Justice Stewart delivered the 6-2 decision. Justice White dissented with an opinion in which Justice Clark joined. Justice Harlan took no part.

Costello was born in Italy and brought to this country when 4 years old. He was naturalized in 1925 but the naturalization was canceled in 1959 on the ground he obtained citizenship by fraud.

In 1954 Costello was convicted of evading income taxes in 1948 and 1949. He served two years in prison. In 1961 he was ordered deported as an alien convicted of two crimes involving moral turpitude. The U.S. Circuit Court in New York ruled the two tax convictions were such crimes and upheld the deportation order.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, Costello said the immigration law provision involved did not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen and not an alien at the time of his convictions.

The Justice Department contended the section applied because the revocation of Costello's naturalization meant he never was a citizen legally.

Man Charged for Bank Robbery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested Walter Fritts, 30, at Ozark, Ark., Saturday night in connection with a bank robbery in Baltimore.

In the holdup, on Jan. 29, three men got $23,446 from the Maryland National Bank and a Baltimore policeman was shot. He died several days later.

Fritts, whom the FBI said had lived in the area where he was arrested, was picked up by agents shortly after he left an Ozark motel.

Fritts was taken to Fort Smith and arraigned on a charge of bank robbery, the FBI said.

The FBI said when arrested Fritts had nearly $4,000 in cash, and a few days before had paid $500 down on an 80-acre farm near Huntsville.

Cyprus Fuss Goes Before UN Council

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Cyprus dispute goes before the U.N. Security Council today as Britain and the United States seek to head off military intervention by Turkey and Greece.

The council debate, requested by Britain and Cyprus, was expected to launch negotiations for an international force linked to the U.N. Its purpose would be to prevent another general outbreak of fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

The United States and Britain fear that another serious outbreak would prompt Turkey and Greece to send in troops to back up their Cypriot kin. The result could be a war between Turkey and Greece, Eastern anchors of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus broadcast an appeal to Turkish and Greek Cypriots for restraint. But Makarios warned that his government—meaning the Greek Cypriots—would "not give in to threats, pressure or blackmail."

"We shall fight courageously and resolutely against the designs or attacks on our island," he said. Since the communal fighting during Christmas, there has been virtually no governmental cooperation between the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish Cypriot minority.

U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball returned to Washington Sunday night after failing to persuade Makarios to accept a U.S.-British proposal for a 10,000-man peace-keeping force supplied by NATO nations. The archbishop said he would only accept a force approved by the U.N. and made up of British Commonwealth nations.

Ball, who won acceptance of the NATO force from Greece and Turkey, described Cyprus as a "very critical problem."

Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou was expected to tell the council an international force would be acceptable if it is placed under the council and does not consist of NATO troops.

Fans Betting Goalies to Last Longer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago hockey fans, known to have wagered a penny or two on a National League contest involving their beloved Black Hawks, were betting even money Sunday night that goalies Ed Johnston and Glenn Hall would outlast referee Frank Udvari.

Chicago won the game 5-3 to keep a share of the NHL lead.

The Hawks strangled Johnston with 47 shots and the Bruins peppered Hall with 39.

Peacemaker Edvari, in fact, had a full scale vendetta on his hands. The referee handed out 26 penalties for 110 minutes—96 in the second period when the clubs brawled and beefed from start to finish.

Tom Johnson, Orland Kurtenbach and Ted Green of Boston swapped punches with Chicago's Elmer Vasko, Stan Mikita and Art Erickson. All drew major penalties and Kurtenbach and Vasko were hit with 10-minute misconduct raps. Kurtenbach ultimately was ejected for shoving an official.

The Chicago fireworks partially obscured Jean Beliveau's hat-trick at Detroit, where Montreal stopped the Red Wings' five-game winning streak 5-2. Beliveau scored his 20th, 21st and 22nd second goals and assisted on Claude Provost's clincher. Bobby Rousseau completed the Canadiens' scoring while Parker MacDonald connected twice on power plays for Detroit.

Montreal and Chicago are tied for the league lead, each with 69 points.

New York moved two points closer to the Wings in the race for fourth place by trimming Toronto 4-2. Camille Henry's 25th goal proved decisive as the Rangers snapped a string of five straight reversals.

In Saturday night's games Detroit upended Montreal 4-1 and Toronto shut out Chicago 4-0.

Grambling Wins Over AM&N

GRAMBLING, La. (AP) — Grambling College, ranked No. 2 among the nation's small colleges, socked Arkansas AM&N 101-87 Saturday night and avenged an earlier loss to the Golden Lions.

James Mack Allen hit 36 for AM&N and Harold Blevins added 19.

Grambling has a 22-1 season record, and the Golden Lions have a 16-6 mark.

NCA Against Friday Night Grid TV

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCA and a national high school organization have taken a strong stand against television of pro football on Friday nights, contending the plan violates the spirit and the intent of the federal antitrust law of 1961.

The NCAA, with 613 colleges as members, asked the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate and should it find the plan isn't a violation, to consider amending it to prevent any Friday night telecasts by the pros.

Walt Byers, NCAA executive director, said the 1961 law specifies pro teams may not televise their games on Friday night or Saturday from any station within 75 miles of a college football game. Byers said there is no reference to high schools.

The American Broadcasting Co., which has signed the Ford Motor Co. as sponsor, contends the five National League games it plans to show next fall aren't covered in the 1961 law, because the games are being negotiated with individual clubs and not the NFL.

Byers in a statement authorized by the NCAA's legislative and television committee said Saturday the plan is a violation "because available evidence suggests coordinated action by the parties involved and an agreement not to respect the blackout provisions of the law."

He added the "indifference of professional football to the esti-

Baseball Is Shocked Over Hubbs' Death

By TOM BRADY
Associated Press Writer

PROVO, Utah, (AP) — Shock and deep sorrow were still felt today over the death of Chicago Cubs infielder Ken Hubbs, whose bright future was snuffed out forever in an airplane crash last week.

He was only 22, the National League's Rookie of the Year in 1962 when he set two major league fielding records at second base.

He was just getting started. "You don't have to worry about second base here for 10 years," he said with youthful confidence when he made the grade with the Cubs two years ago.

Last Thursday he took off from the airport at this central Utah community where his brother Keith had gone to school at Brigham Young University.

With him was Dennis Doyle, 23, an orphan who grew up in the Hubbs' home at Colton, Calif.

The wreckage of their plane, a single-engine Cessna 172 which Hubbs had bought a year ago, was found scattered in and around a 10-foot hole in the ice on Utah Lake, five miles west of Provo, Saturday.

Their bodies were recovered by skindivers in 15 feet of water under the ice Sunday.

Funeral services for Doyle are scheduled Tuesday in Provo where his wife's parents live.

Funeral services for Hubbs will be at Colton Thursday. His matred 18,000 high schools, the bulk of which play their games on Friday night, is intentional.

In Chicago, Clifford Fagan, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, declared the pro games "quite obviously would work havoc with the high school football program."

Fagan called for a coordinated, vigorous protest by his group's 20,111 members, most of which play football.

Australian Sets Swim Record

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — An Australian teen-ager, Ian O'Brien, set a world record for the 110-yard breast stroke Sunday with a clocking of 1:08.5. The effort trimmed 1.1 seconds off the record set by Chet Jastremski of the United States, Aug. 23, 1961.

Reliable Cars Win Those Tough Races

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Reliable cars win races, even one headline short, and trouble can sometimes be a blessing in disguise.

Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., and Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico City attested to these truths in describing their victory in the Daytona Continental Sunday morning, afternoon and night—all 1,243 miles of it.

The race over the combined banked and road courses lasted 12 hours and 40 minutes and was billed as the longest race ever held in the United States.

The left front tire of their red Ferrari blew early in the race and resulted in a damaged front fender. Mechanics later hammered the fender away from the wheel.

Chicago Cub teammates will act as pallbearers. Hubbs' teammates on the Colton Little League championship team of 1954 will be honorary pallbearers.

Utah State Aeronautics Director Harlon Bement said the way the plane crashed, nose down at an angle of 70 or 80 degrees with the right wing hitting first, indicates that the plane had been in what he termed "a graveyard spiral" which can occur when a pilot loses sight of the horizons because of bad weather.

Hubbs got his pilot's license two weeks ago. He had logged 71 hours and 15 minutes flying time before this trip.

American Loop Lost on All Sides

BOSTON (AP)—The American League lost the World Series, the All-Star Game and attendance last season. Now comes a Feb. 21 summit meeting when fellow owners decide whether to lose Charles O. Finley.

Time twice has run out on deadlines for Athletics' owner Finley to sign a lease with Kansas City officials.

So far, there's no agreement reached or action taken. Mid-night Saturday passed and Finley's adamant two-year or nothing lease stand appeared to stymie the AL as effectively as Sandy Koufax had the pennant-winning Yankees.

President Joe Cronin took the first step Sunday by announcing the Friday meeting to which Kansas City officials are invited.

Cronin hints the owners may be ready to carry out their threat to oust Finley, made at the last owners' meeting Jan. 16 when Finley's request to move the franchise to Louisville was killed 9-1.

Finley reaffirmed Sunday night he would be at the controls when Kansas City opens the season.

Since the previous owners' meeting, Finley has threatened a law suit if the league attempts to take away his franchise and the wheel.

But the spotlight from that side of the car was gone, and Rodriguez said he wasn't sure how it would react once the drivers were forced to find their way around the track in the darkness. Race rules state that each car must have at least two forward lights working.

Hill, a 36-year-old veteran, said he experienced no trouble with the lights the way they were—two driving lights and one headlight—and Rodriguez said he too found the going easy.

Hill and Rodriguez averaged about 98 miles per hour and took top prize of $12,300.

L. R. Woman Wins Bowling Division

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Wanda Brooks of Little Rock won the singles division of the Arkansas Women's Bowling Tournament which ended Sunday, with a score of 678.

Moore's Chapel of Fayetteville won the team event with 2,995 points.

Wilma Hughes and Maurice White of Arkadelphia won the doubles division with 1,257 points.

Mae Burdine of Magnolia won the all-events scratch division with 1,619 and Elaine Cunningham of Fort Smith won the all-events handicap with 1,893.

Naomi Butler of Fort Smith won the Theresa Kelone award for high series in the team event with a 630.

Records by Hayes, Pennel Rejected

LONDON (AP)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation approved 19 world records in track Saturday but rejected John Pennel's 17 feet, 3/4 inch in the pole vault and Bob Hayes' 9.1 seconds in the 100 yard dash.

retained famed trial lawyer Louis Nizer.

Finley, who also made a commitment to move his team to Oakland and may make the proposal at the forthcoming meeting, did have this to say:

"The ball club never has been for sale. . . . It's not on sale today nor will it be tomorrow. I would not sell the ball club for $10 million. I'll be in Boston for the meeting Friday."

Finley's reference to not selling concerned an alleged offer to sell for $7 million, which he called a "manufactured lie."

Finley remains firm on the two-year lease. Kansas City officials had insisted on four years or more until an 11th hour, three-year compromise was suggested by city councilman John Maguire Saturday.

That proposal died amidst questions of delegates authority, sincerity and aptness of thought.

Probers Hear Bigwigs of Pro Football

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bigwigs of professional football testify today before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee on proposed legislation and the future of their sport.

With Pete Rozelle and Joe Foss, commissioners of the rival National and American Football Leagues scheduled to take the witness stand, senators disclosed in advance they might apply some fresh heat on an old problem.

Is the National League finally willing to agree to an annual World Series type playoff between the two leagues' champions?

The NFL has thus far rejected all AFL attempts to set up such a contest.

At main issue is a bill sponsored by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to spell out uniform antitrust law exemptions for professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

The first really discordant note in the hearings is expected from the Baltimore Colts' big end, Ordell Braase, who is to appear as a spokesman for the players.

Brasse, president of the National League Players Association, has declared in advance he wants more protection for players' rights in contract matters written into the measure. Football management has shown no enthusiasm at all for such proposals.

Representatives of big league baseball testify Tuesday with the possibility of witness stand confrontation between Charles O. Finley, battling owner of the Kansas City Athletics, and American League President Joe Cronin.

Cronin and President Warren Giles of the National League have accepted invitations to testify. The subcommittee says Finley, however, has not even

In the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church Miss Cherry Ann Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Thomas G. Anderson and the late "Chubby" Anderson, and David Edward Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clifton Stewart, were united in marriage on Friday, February 14.

Dr. L. T. Lawrence officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. R. L. Gosnell, organist, played a program of nuptial music. Vows were exchanged beneath an arch or ivy, and the couple knelt on a prie Dieu at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Charles B. Huckabee gave the bride in marriage. She wore a bridal white street-length gown. The chantilly fitted bodice with scalloped neckline and long sleeves met a bell-shaped skirt of acetate peau. Her shoulder length mantilla type veil of English illusion edged in scalloped lace was held in place with pearl clips. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

Miss Dora Ann King, the bride's only attendant, chose a persimmon silk organza over satin sheath. A matching satin bow centering a filmy disc was her head-piece. She carried pink gladioli.

HUSBAND TELLS OF DREAMING ABOUT OTHER WOMEN

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I am worried about my husband. He says he isn't interested in any other woman. Once he told me he dreamed about the receptionist in his office. And this morning at breakfast he told me he dreamed about one of my best friends. She is not beautiful, but she is exotic in a certain way.

Doesn't his dreams reveal his hidden wishes? Or do they veil the fact that he is having an affair with someone else? I must know, Dr. Brothers.—G. E.

Dear G. E.: Most men have dreams just like your husband's, and they're natural and normal, but psychologists are often the only ones to hear about them. If your husband told you about his, the chances are 100 to 1 he has nothing to hide. Men's dreams usually center around two themes—success and sex. These are the gravitational centers in a man's life. Success is so important to a man, it has deep roots in his unconscious and this is where our dreams originate. So, a man may dream of being a millionaire, or elected president, or receiving a coveted military decoration. These are wish-fulfillment dreams. They express his unconscious drive for success.

One frequent dream men have is of flying. This is an unconscious symbol of wishing to flee from the anxiety in their lives. At its root may be concern of their jobs, a financial problem, or over a deep-lying conflict they can't solve with honor. Their dream flight is a symbolic release from their problems that they wish for when they're awake.

Two out of three men's dreams, though, have a direct, or indirect, connection with sex. One very disturbing dream sometimes happens to a young man who's engaged to an ex-

Mrs. Duncan. Questionnaires were distributed by Mrs. Clayborn Rowe, and these could be used by the members for future reference concerning the lesson.

Mrs. Eurie Calhoun, discussion leader, gave an enlightening report on Hempstead County history. The thrift garment was won by Mrs. Jack Sumpter. The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served to 11 members, 4 children, and 4 guests, Mrs. Bettie Duncan, Mrs. Ernest Ridgill, Mrs. Dalton Smith, and Mrs. Dorothy Price Sutton.

The next meeting will be March 4 in the home of Mrs. Robert Cash.

Guernsey H. D. Club
The Guernsey Home Demonstration Club met Feb. 6th in the home of Mrs. Dail Ravenscrafts.

The president, Mrs. Ravenscraft called the meeting to order. The group sang "Work for the Night is Coming". Mrs. Oris Thornton gave the devotion. Mrs. Troy Burson gave an eye-opener "Gloves, kind and place to wear them". Mrs. N. B. Coleman gave the program. A film "All About Fallout" was shown.

One new member Mrs. Herbert Cox joined the club. Refreshments were served to eight members and three children. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Oris Thornton March 5th.

Coming and Going
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowe and Johnny spent the weekend in Springfield with the Bill Harrir family.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Shuford have returned from a visit with relatives in Little Rock, Marianna, and Grady to Clarksdale, Miss., to see Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shuford and family.

Weekend guests of Sarah Bagley were Virginia Leysath, Pam Arnold, Susan Wilson, Elaine Berg, Kathy Walker, and Ann Pope, all of Camden.

Those from Hope who attended funeral services Friday in Mena for John Edward Joplin, Sr., father of The Joplin of our city, were Luther Hollamon, who played the organ for the services, Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly, Mrs. Byron Heiner, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Eason, and Mrs. G. A. Hobbs.

Dexter Bailey, spent Saturday in Dallas attending a Sales Meeting. While there, he also visited with his daughter, Miss Janice Bailey.

Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Wright and daughter, Joan and Reba have returned to their home in Denison, Texas after visiting Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Flowers.

some assurances demanded by the unions.

In connection with the Florida East Coast Railway strike, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz today asked labor and management to meet in Daytona Beach, Fla., Tuesday.

Reynolds also is expected to confer with G. E. Leighty, chief negotiator for 11 unions on strike against the Florida East Coast Railway in a 13-month-old wage dispute marked by dynamitings, shootings and accusations of sabotage.

Last Friday, two blasts tore into the underside of a Florida East Coast freight train near New Smyrna Beach. Mayor William Hathaway of New Smyrna Beach asked President Johnson to use federal forces to halt violence along the line, or shut down the railroad until the strike is settled.

Johnson got involved after strikers picketed a new spur track entering Cape Kennedy. Construction crews working on space facilities refused to cross the picket lines.

The AFL-CIO maritime trades department is expected to formally adopt the proposal to boycott loading of Soviet wheat shipments and then ask the Executive Council for its backing.

The Executive Council is made up of 29 vice presidents and other top officers of the 13.5-million-member federation.

Conservative Council Formed

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) - About 150 delegates from 24 states, including Arkansas, formed a National Conservative Council Sunday to "restore the effectiveness of the two-party system."

The group passed a resolution calling on all voters to support "the candidacy of a constitutional conservative to become the Republican nominee for the office of president."

John W. Carter of Danville, Va., chairman, said the organization had no immediate plans to declare its support of any particular candidate because the council does not "want to tie itself to a personality."

Carter said, however, that he viewed Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., as "the only constitutional conservative in the race."

The council plans to hold a convention in Chicago July 31.

Actor Hopes to Start on New Career

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - "Right this way, senator."

George Murphy beamed and followed the Brown Derby headwaiter toward a booth. The Irishman stopped to table-hop along the way, and pal told him, "George, you may win the Republican primary."

"And the general election, too," Murphy replied firmly.

He arrived at the booth after a circuitous route and talked of the new career he has approached with the same cheerful confidence he brought to his first career as hooper and actor.

Now it's George Murphy, corporation executive, World's Fair showman and candidate for United States Senate. With only financier Leland Kaiser in the Republican race as yet and the Democrats in a state of confusion over the health of Sen. Clair Engle, Murphy's candidacy is being taken seriously by party pros.

What brought about his change from an acting career? "It wasn't working," he said. "It seems that political activity doesn't hurt a liberal who is an actor, but it can hurt a conservative."

"I decided to see if I could earn a living from what I had been doing for nothing," he said.

His activities had been stage-managing the Republican National Conventions, helping the Eisenhower campaigns and doing public relations chores for the film industry. The latter earned him an Academy Award.

After he left MGM, Murphy got a phone call from Desi Arnaz. "I just bought a movie studio," said the Cuban. "Come over and help me run it."

Murphy went with Desilu in a public relations and production capacity, then left to become a vice president, with the new Technicolor management. His duties include public and government relations. He reckons his salary at a fifth of what he made as a film star, but the challenge and the opportunity are rewarding, he said.

He also formed George Murphy & Associates and scouted possibilities of a pleasure park in Phoenix. This was shelved for another enterprise: the Hollywood exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

The studios cooperated; not so the state of California. "The administration kept us waiting nine months before deciding not to go in on the exhibit," said Murphy, adding another reason for his displeasure with the Democrats.

CHAPTER 25

She drove through the night, still heading south, not glancing at me, not speaking.

"Your friend, Sammy," I said, "sweet Sammy of Las Vegas. He arranged it so neatly for you to go. Three little white mice out of a trap, three untied strings, three loose ends. Does not sound like Las Vegas, pet; does not sound like Las Vegas at all."

"Duffey, we were lucky!"

"Because Sammy liked you? I don't believe it."

Down at the end of nowhere Gail turned east.

"Is this the road to Tucson and Nogales?"

"Not yet. We'll join it."

"Good. Next place there's a public phone I want to use it."

The next place was a gas station, orange, blue, and white, immaculate and inviting against the night. There was an outside booth at the near corner. Between the two of us we accumulated $1.90 worth of change. Gail said something about the amount. I only told her the call was long distance.

I put a dime in the phone and asked the operator for the Los Angeles Police Department. If I had had enough change I would have made the call person to person, but I didn't want to go into the station and ask to change a bill. That was the sort of thing the attendant would remember.

While the Department waited, the operator had me drop in 95 cents for the first three minutes. I asked for Auto Theft and then for Lieutenant Valerich.

He was on the other end of my line in about 10 seconds. I told him who I was, and he told me there was an all-points out on me and that the Department had been notified and that if I had any sense I'd turn myself in to the local authorities.

"You're a good guy," I told him, "that's why I'm calling you. If you'll listen to me for about two minutes then I'll let you give me the lecture. One, I was in Scottsville when Covalt died, but so was the redhead with the tattoo on his hand. He was there with a boy named Solly. Solly ran a bar called the Viva Juarez! down off South Central. Twenty minutes ago I found Solly dead in a back room off the bar with a fat man who had helped Solly take me for a ride the afternoon after you left me. I'm not supposed to be alive. Solly was a brother-in-law of Eddie 'The Jinx' Epstein. The Jinx was my cellmate. According to Solly, the Jinx is dead, too. There's also a bartender from Scottsville named Jimmy Turner. I was supposed to look him up the night before you came over here. Only he's been missing for a couple of weeks. The liquor license for Solly's bar was owned by this Jack Charlton who was being kicked around by Covalt when I butted in. Also, there's a tie-in between Charlton and Covalt and the Paradise West in Vegas. Covalt killed an actor named Rick Cannard in a suite at the Paradise West, and was hustled out of town along with Charlton who witnessed the killing. Officially, this had nothing to do with you, but let me tell you this, Lieutenant. The whole lid popped off when I came over here on a lead to the car-theft ring that put me in jail."

"Listen to me, Duffey," Valerich's voice was snapping, "you turn yourself over to the nearest officer. If you're on the level..."

"I'm on the level, Lieutenant. But now, I guess, I better beat it. I've got an idea about the redhead. Thanks for listening."

I cradled the phone.

I climbed over the door of the Jag and told Gail to take it away.

"The station attendant was under the grease rack while you were phoning. I don't think he even saw us drive up."

"A little more time for us."

I told her, "Not too much, I'm afraid. There's an all-points out for me."

"How do you know that?"

Her glance was as sharp as it was quick.

"I just talked to the Los Angeles Police Department. I just talked to the one man in the world whose conscience has twinged over me."

"You're crazy, Duffey, absolutely, ridiculously mad!"

"What kind of car did Jack Charlton drive?"

"A Cad."

"Recognize it if you see it?"

"Of course."

"That's what we're looking for. It's in some garage having its plates and color changed. However, I'm betting that's all done south of the border."

"When Charlton has a foreign car agency and garage in Scottsville?" Gail asked.

"Charlton's dead. The red-head's on the run. If he used Charlton's car to pack the body up the mountain he's going to use it now."

Million Men in Danger of Heart Attack

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Several million American men are walking around with silent coronary artery disease, two heart specialists said today.

This means arteries carrying blood to the heart muscle have started to narrow to a significant degree. This sets the stage for many heart attacks, which occur when the blood flow becomes blocked.

Some men have even had initial heart attacks with no pain or any other signs, said Drs. Arthur Master of New York City and Arthur Beller of Englewood, N.J.

They urged all men over age 35 to have annual checkups, including X rays, to detect signs of the artery disease.

The checkup also should include electrocardiograms taken during or immediately after mild exercise, such as a two-step test or treadmill workout, the physicians told the New York State Medical Society.

An electrocardiogram taken when a person is lying down can fail to show signs of the underlying artery disease, they said.

They cited reports that 40 to 80 per cent of electrocardiograms taken during rest of persons with angina pectoris - caused by narrowed arteries - look quite normal. The angina patient gets pain on exertion or under emotional stress.

If silent disease is found, men can greatly improve their chances of escaping heart attacks by moderate changes in living habits, Dr. Master said.

Bobcats Stun Camden Teams With 2 Wins

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Bringing their string of conference wins to four in a row, the Bobcats stunned Camden 62-54 Saturday night in Jones Field House.

Setting a terrific pace the whole game, Hope was forced to change tactics in the waning minutes to try to freeze out a sudden spurt of points by the Panthers.

When the play began, the Cats were ready to tear into Camden, but the Panthers preferred to stall a while and cool Hope off. With strong control under the boards, the Cats matched points with the Panthers, who were hitting from way out. At the Quarter, the score was tied at 14 all.

Hope started the Second Quarter hot, and quickly mounted an offensive that netted them a five point advantage. The Panthers kept coming, and at the Half Hope had a 35-29 gap on them.

The Cats continued to control the rebounding to some extent, and combining that with a little aggressiveness, moved on out to 48-37 for the third period.

Midway into the final period, Camden picked up a couple of tallies, and, thoroughly intoxicated with thought of coming back, began to rally.

The Bobcats watched their lead, once 13 points, slowly melt away to 5 as the clock marked the time to go at 2 minutes.

With the crowd coming to its feet, the Cats went into a freeze. Reinhardt went to the free throw line for 2 shots, and Hope moved to 59-52. Less than a minute remained, and Burnett went to the charity line for 2 points. He then rounded out the game at 62-54 with one more sack.

As the final second ticked off, Burnett again coming down court. As he crossed the mid-court stripe, he made a mighty heave and the ball arched way up and came down through the hoop. The officials ruled that the buzzer had already sounded, however if it was quite a shot.

Dan Jones was top man of the evening with 23 points, Jerry Burnett had 12, Bill Reinhardt and Johnny Roneycutt 10 each, and Paul Henley 7. Jim Coleman had 17 for Camden.

The Junior Boys won their match in a real knock-down-drag-out. With both teams playing very aggressively and using full court presses, Hope was forced to issue a last quarter burst to down Camden 39-34.

Danny Wilson had 11 for the Kittens, Stannie Parris 8, Dennis

Turner and Mike Westbrook 7 apiece, Larry Don Wright 4, and Richard Salice 1.

Larry Don was given the rather unpleasant task of guarding Singleton, boy who more closely resembles a pro tackle than a Junior high basketball player. Last week he scored 22 over Willis of Crosssett, no small feat himself. Wright did an excellent job of guarding his holding him to 10 points.

Tomorrow night the Senior Boys go to Taylor for a non-league game. Thursday night the Kittens go to the District Tourney down at Snackover. They play the winner of tomorrow Fairview-Magnolia match.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Little Gerry Lindgren, a squeaky-voiced high school distance running sensation, may learn this week just how good his chances are to run in the 1964 Olympics.

The 115-pounder from Spokane, Wash., who posts ever-more-incredible times in each race he runs, will try for the National AAU indoor three-mile title Saturday night in New York.

"I sure don't know what I can do," said Gerry last Saturday night after he ran 8:40.0 for two miles at the Golden Gate Invitational.

What he has done so far is run two miles nearly 30 seconds faster than any high schooler in history, approach within 10.4 seconds of world standards and lose only grudgingly in two races against pending world record holders.

Gerry, who is only 17, is aiming for a 3,000-meter berth in the Olympics—the two-mile is not a Games event.

Gerry admitted that after-effects of a cold and a week of penicillin shots bothered him at the Golden Gate race, which he started "hoping maybe I could run 8:46 again." That's what he clocked in January when he lost narrowly to Gaston Roelants of Belgium, pending world record-holder in the steeplechase.

Here Saturday he was beaten by the fine final-kick of Australian Ron Clarke, who holds world bests at six miles and 10,000 meters.

Otherwise the meet was only ordinary. Jim Beatty made his 1964 debut but sagged to a 4:13.4 mile, losing indoors for the first time in four years. NCAA champ Morgan Groth from Oregon State won in 4:07.9.

Jeff Chase pole-vaulted 16-1½. Darel Newman of Fresno State upset record-holder Herb Carpenter in 6.1 for 60 yards and Canadian Bill Crothers outkicked Norm Hoffman in a 1:54.2 tactical half-mile.

There were two other major weekend indoor meets, the Dallas Invitational and the Mason-Dixon Games in Louisville, highlighted by the performances of Randy Matson and Villanova's two-mile relay team.

Matson, a 6-foot-6 Texas A&M freshman, got off a toss of 62-feet-5 in winning the shot at Dallas for one of the top indoor heaves on record.

Villanova, anchored by Noel Carroll, lowered its own two-mile relay record to 7:24.9 at Louisville. Carroll ran a brilliant 1:48.8 anchor leg.

Bob Hayes, Florida A&M equalled his own indoor mark of 6.9 in the 70-yard dash.

All the losses of the two leaders in Southwest Conference basketball — Texas A&M and Texas Tech—have been on the road.

Indicating that Tech might catch up again with the Aggies this week since the former has both of its games at home while Texas A&M plays two away.

The Aggies, who took over first place last week when Texas Tech lost to Texas at Austin, face a tough one Saturday night when they play Arkansas at Fayetteville. This follows a Tuesday test against lowly Baylor at Waco.

The only team Baylor has been able to beat is Texas Christian and Texas Christian furnishes Texas Tech its first opposition of the week, clashing with the Horned Forges at Lubbock Tuesday.

Saturday Tech hosts Southern Methodist in a televised game. This could be a tough one for the Red Raiders even if they are playing at home. The Techs won a hair-raiser at Dallas.

Texas Tech pulled into a tie for first with Texas A&M when it beat the Aggies 84-82 last Tuesday. But then came a 78-76 loss to Texas while the Aggies were whipping Rice 79-67.

So the field moves into the stretch with the Aggies one game to the good over Tech and two over Southern Methodist and Arkansas.

Arkansas climbed back into contention last week when it clouted Southern Methodist 83-71 and Baylor 73-61. Southern Methodist rebounded for an 85-75 decision over Texas Christian to stay in a tie with Arkansas.

Texas was the most fearsome team of them all. The Longhorns have already been virtually eliminated from the race but are making a strong finish.

The Longhorns bashed Rice 98-80 last week before tumbling Texas Tech. Then when A&M also beat Rice it pushed the latter down with the also-rans.

Southern Methodist and Texas clash at Dallas Tuesday while Rice and Arkansas go together at Houston. Saturday Texas plays Texas Christian at Austin and Baylor and Rice tangle at Houston.

Kendall Rhine of Rice and Bennie Lenox of Texas A&M are splitting up the scoring leads. Rhine is tops for the season with 433 points to 377 for Lenox but Lenox leads in conference play with 179 points to 178 for Rhine.

Porkers Win Pair, Still in the Race

All the losses of the two leaders in Southwest Conference basketball — Texas A&M and Texas Tech—have been on the road.

Indicating that Tech might catch up again with the Aggies this week since the former has both of its games at home while Texas A&M plays two away.

The Aggies, who took over first place last week when Texas Tech lost to Texas at Austin, face a tough one Saturday night when they play Arkansas at Fayetteville. This follows a Tuesday test against lowly Baylor at Waco.

The only team Baylor has been able to beat is Texas Christian and Texas Christian furnishes Texas Tech its first opposition of the week, clashing with the Horned Forges at Lubbock Tuesday.

Saturday Tech hosts Southern Methodist in a televised game. This could be a tough one for the Red Raiders even if they are playing at home. The Techs won a hair-raiser at Dallas.

Texas Tech pulled into a tie for first with Texas A&M when it beat the Aggies 84-82 last Tuesday. But then came a 78-76 loss to Texas while the Aggies were whipping Rice 79-67.

So the field moves into the stretch with the Aggies one game to the good over Tech and two over Southern Methodist and Arkansas.

Arkansas climbed back into contention last week when it clouted Southern Methodist 83-71 and Baylor 73-61. Southern Methodist rebounded for an 85-75 decision over Texas Christian to stay in a tie with Arkansas.

Texas was the most fearsome team of them all. The Longhorns have already been virtually eliminated from the race but are making a strong finish.

A number of college basketball coaches and athletic directors are sitting nervously beside telephones today. For some of them, it will ring once. For some twice. For some not at all.

They're waiting for the word from the National Invitation Tournament and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which start picking the fields for their tournaments, the two major post-season attractions.

Fifteen of the 25 berths in the NCAA tournament are reserved for conference champions, but the other 10 go to at-large teams. The NCAA started bidding for those 10 teams today, one hour before the NIT can put in its bids for the 12 teams that make up the field for the Madison Square Garden attraction.

Three highly successful independents, Villanova, DePaul, and Oregon State, are virtually assured of bids to each. In such a case, the school can make its own choice.

Villanova, with victories over Duquesne, 73-63, and Canisius, 73-58, last week, is ranked eighth in the nation on a 19-2 record. There are indications it would prefer the NCAA spot if offered, but would be one of the big attractions for the NIT.

Oregon State, No. 9 in the nation, pushed its record to 21-3 with a 76-72 decision over Seattle last week and DePaul, No. 10, is 16-2 after victories over Marquette, 72-69, and Western Ontario, 98-58.

Temple is the first team to be assured of a tourney berth, having wrapped up the Middle Atlantic championship and a spot as a conference boss in the NCAA.
